FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SAGA INTRODUCES NEW AM-10 A-MODEL MANDOLIN KIT!

Every mandolin enthusiast who yearns to build their own, personalized custom mandolin will be thrilled by the new AM-10 kit from Saga! Every thing you need is included and all the difficult operations are already done for you. The fine solid spruce top and figured solid maple back are pre-shaped—inside and out. They are each hand-carved with the graduations left thick for final adjustments. The two spruce tone-bars are pre-curved and ready to install in the top, after the final graduations. The f-holes are already cut in the top and the sides are glued to the top, with kerfing installed. The binding slot is pre-routed in the top and a strip of white plastic binding is provided.

The maple neck is already attached and a bound, fretted rosewood fingerboard is installed. The peghead is pre-drilled to accept the tuning machines that come with the kit, and the peghead with it's rosewood overlay already installed is left long and square at the end to allow the builder the freedom to cut his or her own, unique design. An adjustable truss rod is pre-installed in the neck, and a white plastic truss rod cover is included.

A quality tailpiece comes with the kit, as well as a compensated, height-adjustable rosewood bridge, bone nut and a set of strings.

It's an easy job to assemble and finish this fine A-model mandolin, and our instruction booklet is easy to follow with it's clear instructions and illustrations. The AM-10 mandolin kit from Saga is a dream come true for the aspiring luthier who doesn't have access to a complete woodworking shop and a huge investment in tools.

All the most difficult work is already done for you—so have fun with your AM-10 A-model mandolin kit from Saga!
